Teammate Shoutouts

September Drawing Winner

Stefanie O'Dell
Lead Groundskeeper

"I have seen Stefanie work tirelessly around campus to help make our campus look amazing.

Whether she is pulling weeds in the extreme heat, taking care of the grounds, or making the campus festive for each holiday, her hard work and dedication do not go unnoticed.

I know she is just one of many people who work hard behind the scenes, but I would love to see Stefanie recognized for everything she does. She takes pride in our campus, and it shows. Our campus looks amazing, and Stefanie deserves recognition for the role she plays in making it a place we can all be proud of!"

Other shoutouts:

Andrew Taylor
Tutoring Center Secretary

"We witnessed Andrew's exceptional care and patience while helping a nervous student in the Tutoring Center. He shared his own college experience, offered encouragement, and helped the student feel more comfortable and confident about their progress. His compassion made a meaningful impact."

Billy Bellows
Educational Coordinator

"Billy has been a true extension of support for me. Navigating college can be incredibly overwhelming, but Billy is always there to step in, guide me through, and offer amazing help whenever it is needed. I am so grateful for his constant reliability, dedication, and guidance."

Rachelle Green
IT Help Desk Director

“Her exceptional leadership and dedication to keeping our campus community connected. She balances complex IT demands with a warm, solution-oriented approach. Her endless patience and for keeping our digital infrastructure running smoothly every day!”

Jessica Huggenburger
Marketing Coordinator

“Jessica has done an outstanding job leading the celebration of the College’s 60th anniversary. Her creativity and attention to detail make every event meaningful, memorable, and extra special.”

Rebbel Henningfeld
Business Solutions Training Developer

“Rebbel is an exceptional trainer, mentor, life coach, and dependable colleague. Her passion for helping others learn and grow is remarkable. She takes great pride in every class she delivers—her work is truly her signature, leaving a lasting impact on our team and community business partners!”

Patty Walters
Coffee Spot Barista

“Patty brings so much joy to WIT. She is positive, sweet, and always friendly. Thank you Patty for everything you do!”

Tammy Larson
Coffee Spot Barista

"Tammy is a constant source of positive energy, good vibes, and genuine kindness. Thank you Tammy for all that you do!"

Dr. Linda Mercer
PTA Instructor

"Linda consistently goes above and beyond to support our students, ensuring they have what they need as quickly as possible, even if it means staying late or working from home. Her dedication to helping the next generation is truly appreciated."

Ashley Totten

Administrative Program Coordinator - Denison/Nursing Instructor

“Ashley is a wonderful teammate because she consistently goes above and beyond to make sure my students have positive and meaningful learning experiences. She is always there to make sure I have what I need and makes me feel supported, valued, and confident in my role as a nursing instructor.”

Shelley West

Secretary - Cherokee

“Shelley does so much more than just a secretary. She helps students with any IT issues they have. Assures they get signed up for student activities and helps get them engaged during activities!”

Jullina Williams
Pharmacy Tech Instructor

“Jullina always has a smile on her face and is always willing to drop what she is doing to help someone else. She truly cares about each individual she interacts with and is just the biggest ray of sunshine here on campus!”

Juan Romero
Custodian

“Juan is someone who always goes out of his way to say hi and make people feel welcome! Your friendliness and kindness doesn't go unnoticed.”

Lori Johnson
Department Assistant - Health Sciences

"Lori is my go to person for POs, the one who keeps my Practicum Site contracts up to date and anything else I may need."

Jeff Jansen
Assistant Controller

"If patience is truly a virtue, Jeff has got to be one of the most virtuous people on this campus. His tolerance for my stupid questions, specifically p-card questions, and business questions in general, is nothing short of amazing. He and Brian are a calm island I know I can ask any question to."

Martha Nuno
Educational Coordinator

“Transformation: Giving each student their own time to decide their future through academics. Engagement: Promoting various events on campus with TRIO and Activities. Community: Meets students where they are, allowing them to work continuously in their community. Harmony: brings all these values together and allows students to complete their own journey while attending WITCC.”

Lynn Konz

Educational Coordinator

“Lynn is a Superhero. As a new adjunct, I did not know that my room assignment could change. I like to be prepared, so I arrived 45 minutes early for my 8 a.m. class. When I only had 4 of 12 students at 8, I knew something was wrong. Two of the students had gotten the room number from my syllabus, and the other two were just really early for their class. In that moment, I knew Lynn was the person who could help. She'd been helping me for the last week when I visited the ACE, because although I was a new adjunct, I wasn't a new employee (I moved from ELL), so I fell through a lot of cracks.

“I walked into the ACE, blathered about not being in the right room, not knowing who to call, could she help me, and generally freaking out. She calmly (and unfazed) asked, what section I was teaching, opened the screen and got me squared away. I went back after class and asked her to check my next section to make sure it had not changed rooms as well. It hadn't, but she checked the enrollment for me and told me I had 21 enrolled which was important because I needed to make more copies of the readiness snapshot. I've worked in a lot of different industries and you come across lots of different types of people. Some only value status and position and they try to keep people in those boxes. I feel sorry for them because they don't realize the superheroes they work with every day. They don't do it for status or position. They do it because they love their job and genuinely just want to help. Thank you, Lynn, for helping me (and for all the cute crocheted items in the ACE). ”

Thank you!

Thank you to everyone who submitted shoutouts, and thank you for everyone’s hard work!

Remember to pin the Employee Recognition Card to your my.wit homepage, and submit brief shoutouts throughout the month. The next prize drawing will be in September.
